This Month

This month at afterschool labs students will join PBS for the launch of their month-long Reading Marathon in which children of preschool age through 6th grade are invited to read at least 20 minutes a day - 600 minutes total - between November 1st and 30th.

Students who complete the challenge and submit their minutes online will receive a PBS KIDS Utah Adventure Pass, with tickets and coupons to their favorite museums, zoos, and all kinds of activities around town. Reading logs must be submitted by December 15th.

Through a PBS grant students will be able to read Native American books, have a read-a-thon, hear from Native American Author/Illustrators, and more! We hope to see your students there!
